terday, gave Hartford a life, so that they were enabled to score three runs defeating the Orators 4-3. Brad Kocher had Abrogast out by a foot in this inning, but the ump ruled he was safe. Bridgeport's kicked, but what could they do? When the Senators finished the inning they stood in the lead 4-1. With that score against them, the Orators furnished one of those desperate rallies which has been marking most of their games of late and adding strength to the forces at Newfield Park. Two runs were pushed over the tallying board, but there was still one more left to tie. There were two on bases with Hi Ladd at the bat. "Boots" McCarthy, who relieved Hack Schuman in this inning smiled a sickly smile at old Hi, and the latter fell for it, He fouled a few balls, and then fouled some more, the result was one that he missed in striking and to say it gently, Hi struck out ending the game. "Heine" Whitmeyer twirled well enough to win the game, if he was given a chance by luck breaking even, as he was connected for success in only two innings. His control was almost perfect. The Senators won the game in the eighth; Justice was safe at first when Bunyan dropped Whitmeyer's threw. Abrogast singled while Schuman's offering snuffed Justice at third. Moore hit to Hilt who threw home to catch Abrogast, Kocher getting him by a foot, but Umpire Sternberg said he was safe. Wanner hit into right field scoring Schuman and Moore. The Orators got their first run in the fourth on a single by Miller, Sweeney's safe wallop after which the double steal was worked, Miller tallying. "Slats" Sweeney opened the ninth with his third hit of the game, Kocher tore off a single into right, placing Sweeney on third. Mac was wild passing Steinhauser, forcing, in Sweeney from third. Bannon popped to Abrogast for the first out. While Hilt was being thrown out at first on his grounder to Wanner. Kocher scored from third. With a man on second and third, and Hi Ladd at the bat, the faithful fans saw nothing but victory as a hit would mean two runs. But, no! What occurred has been told. Look out boys, if you don't agree with certain parties, you will be placed in the so called "in bad" club. It's an awful disgrace, but the chances are you'll get there anyway.

Some comment has arisen for the appearing in print of the names of the managers who voted on the secret ballot in the Yost games. A man who knows on what grounds he stands will not fear to see his name appear, whatever way he votes. Wonder if there was a doubt in some of their minds?

It is a foregone conclusion that the Boston National League club will change ownership before another season, rumor having it that Ned Hanlon, owner of the Baltimore Eastern League club, is anxious to purchase the franchie and has already made a substantial offer, which is under consideration. The sale of the club will be a boon to National League baseball in the Hub.

Reading, Pa., Aug. 12.—It is probable that from September 7 to October 1, the end of the playing season in the American League, the games of the Washington team will be played in Reading. William Abbott Whiteman, who has recently completed a ball park here, has forwarded contracts to the Washington club which when signed will make his place the playing grounds of the Washington team.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The terms for a fight between Jack Johnson and James J. Jeffries have struck a snag already. Charles A. Comiskey, agreed upon by Johnson and Sam Berger yesterday as stake holder, to-day announced he could not accept as he had too many troubles of his own. It will be necessary to select a new stake-holder at once as according to the terms, the money must be up within 48 hours from the signing of the articles. This is expected to be straightened out before night.

Though by the terms of the agreement the fight months, the feeling here is that it will be fully a year before the men face each other in the ring. It is pointed out that by the agreement the fight club must be selected within sixty days. It is not believed a club will be chosen without Jeffries' personal consent and he will not be back in this country for two months at least.
